- Reminder (as if one were needed): Midterm Wednesday. Short review sheet on the Web, possibly mostly useful in describing format/rules.
Questions/problems will likely be a bit longer and more difficult than quizzes but less so than homeworks (and possibly for this course closer to quizzes).
- Quiz solutions available online (today's quiz will be there later today).
Homework solutions available in hardcopy. Sketch of solution to programming problem available online later today / sometime tomorrow.
- And about the programming problem — only five people turned anything in.
What's up?
(While I'm grumbling — only five people ever replied to my e-mail asking about versions of the textbook.)
