11-3-2005
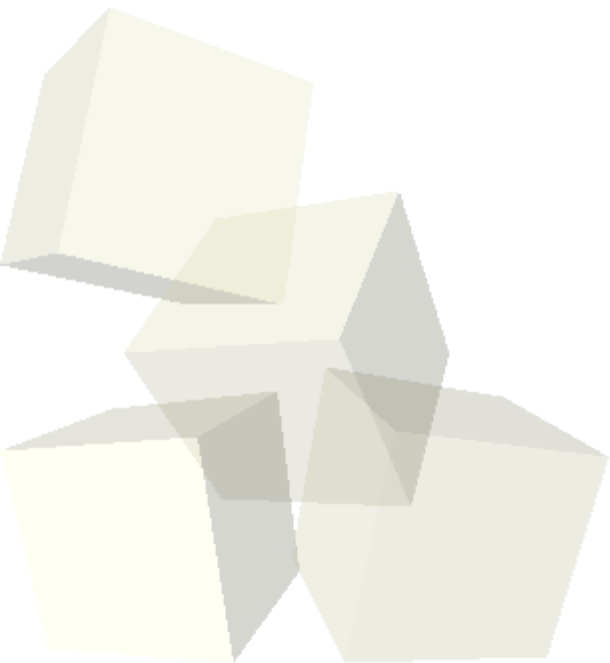

- What did we talk about last class?
- Was there anything that you found interesting in the reading?

- What are the various ways of dealing with other processes in Perl? When do you use each one of them?

- We've seen how to do a lot of string manipulation in Perl with regular expressions. There are more standard ways to work with strings as well.
- What are some of the functions that you can use to work with strings?
- How do you tell Perl to sort things in different ways?
- Let's have our telephone number program print out the data sorted by both name and by telephone number.

- I should get the description of assignment #8 up and it will be due on Monday.