

Having a BLAST

11-30-2005

Opening Discussion

- Do you have any questions about the quiz?
- What did we talk about last class?
- Did anyone go out onto the web to explore things that we talked about last class?

Running BLAST Locally

- Last time we talked about running BLAST through the NCBI web interface. There are certain advantages to this, but we saw that it can go slow at times and if we had a large batch of stuff to process this could be quite troublesome.
- Today we will look at putting BLAST on our own machine so that we can run things locally.

- There is nothing more for this class but the final and the second project.
