Due 10 P.M. Friday evening To get credit, it must be done on time.

1. Set up your blog following the directions on the home page.
2. Create a post introducing yourself. Use an appropriate title for the post. Use language including grammar, punctuation, and capitalization appropriate in an academic setting. In the entry, tell us about yourself.
 - Tell us what name you go by if it's different from the name on the course enrollment sheet.
 - Please tell us where you are from and briefly describe some of your interests, your background, and your campus activities. Tell us something about you that will help us remember who you are, something that will differentiate you from the other students.
 - Finally, tell us about your computer background and any special computer skills or concerns that you have.
 - Make a link from your name to your email address on a new line at the end of your post.

3. Personalize the layout of your blog. For example, you could change the colors, the page elements, the text style. You could even insert a photo. You can work with others on learning to use Blogger, but you should do the work on your blog on your own. Remember you can use the help link.

Evaluation:

Your grade will be based on how well you follow the directions, your writing in the blog entry and the overall look of the blog. If you do a good job on 1. and 2 and skip 3, you can earn a B. To earn an A, you must do all three parts.
